SOUTHERN PACIFIC PROMISES RELIEF

Writes Commission It Hopes to Meet All Car Demands in Near Future

Early relief is promised in the car shortage situation by a letter received from General Manager Scott of the Southern Pacific company at the office of the public service commission this morning.

In explaining the present shortage, the general manager says that inability to get cars unloaded on the Atlantic coast through lack of shipping has tied up about 5000 of the company's cars. He states that early in the year the company placed an order for 3000 new cars, which owing to a shortage of labor and large war orders have not been delivered, although the company had the promise of early delivery. The first shipment of these new cars, however, will be coming forward in a few days, the company reversing its usual custom and billing them through empty and paying freight on them in an effort to satisfy the demands of the Pacific coast. The letter follows:

"We appreciate fully the seriousness of the car situation, not only in Oregon but everywhere on the Pacific coast. We have been sending empty equipment regularly to Oregon to meet the requirements there, in addition to all the loaded cars going in that direction, which of course as soon as unloaded are available for use in that territory. We have delivered this month 325 empties to Portland and today (August 16) have enroute 132 additional. During the same period we have delivered 935 loaded cars to that division. Mention is made of empties to show we are not discriminating against Oregon shippers, but on the contrary are assisting them in every way possible.

"You ask what may be expected in the future. We hope of course that the situation will improve. We had reason to believe we would not be confronted with a shortage this year, because early in the year we placed an order for 3000 cars and had the promise of early delivery. On account of shortage of labor and large war orders being handled in eastern territory the car building concerns have not been able to make delivery. We are now advised that the first shipment of box cars will be coming forward in a few days, and in order to relieve the situation on the coast as much as possible the company is billing them through empty and paying freight thereon. By doing this we hope to be able to satisfy all demands on the coast to a great extent.

"The condition on the Pacific coast is not one for which the Pacific coast is responsible. You are familiar with the situation which has existed in the east for many months as the result of congestion of cars on the Atlantic seaboard through lack of shipping. There are about 5000 cars of our equipment now on eastern rails, the return of which we have been unable to secure. I want your honorable body to accept my assurance that everything possible will be done to alleviate conditions in Oregon."

Thirteen ice plants outside of Multnomah county show a total annual output of 29,260 pounds, according to reports received at the office of Labor Commissioner Hoff.

The Squaw Creek Irrigation company of Prineville, has applied to the public service commission for authority to increase its rate from 35 cents per acre foot to 60 cents per acre foot.

A letter from G. C. Johnson of the Bellevue warehouse, McMinnville, received at the office of the public service commission this morning complains of a loss of business as a result of failure to obtain cars. He states that he has had an order in for cars since August 7.

PRICE OF FISH DROPS UNDER COMMISSION PLAN

San Francisco, Aug. 22.—Retail fish prices dropped ten per cent today with the beginning of operations by the new Northern California Fish Exchange, the latest inauguration of the state market commission, which provides for the establishment of a maximum price for the fisherman, wholesalers and retailers, consumers and the state.

As a result, San Francisco housewives will save about $300,000 yearly. Already a number of Oakland dealers have joined the exchange.

By H. C. Hamilton
(United Press staff correspondent)

New York, Aug. 22.—Two recruit hurlers are the heroes today in Pittsburgh. One of them, Elmer Jacobs, came through a contest against the great Alexander yesterday with a victory in the first game of a double header and the other, Billy Evans, set the Phillies down with another defeat in the second contest.

Philadelphia got to Jacobs for seven hits and scored 3 runs, but his teammates were pounding Alexander at opportune moments, and thanks to a double with the bases filled, he had little trouble winning.

This is Jacobs' first year in the big show. He made his entry last spring from the International league. So far he has been used little, having been saved mainly to finish games.

Evans' performance is more remarkable. This youngster, a college product, pitched his first big league game when he went against the Phillies. His previous effort was several days ago when he finished a game by pitching one inning after it apparently had been lost.

Yesterday's double defeat shunted the Phillies into third place in the National race and sent the Braves back to second place because of their victory over Cincinnati. At the same time the Dodgers were dropping a game to the Cubs and the Stallings crew again has become a menace to the chances of Wilber Robinson's pennant chances.

Boston gained a little on Chicago through the victory over Cleveland, while the Yanks were taking the White Sox to a drubbing. New York's victory, however, shows without a question that Bill Donovan's charges have recovered their lost equilibrium and they are likely to prove troublesome. Chicago is ready for another start today against the New Yorkers.

New York's cripples are nearly all

WELSH TAKING NO CHANCES ON TITLE

Realizes He Has Hard Fight and Is Devoting Whole Time to Training

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 22.—Keenly realizing that his title of lightweight champion will be in danger, Freddie Welsh is putting in some great ticks at training in preparation for his 20-round Labor day battle with Charley White.

Welsh is on the road every morning at 7 o'clock with the trainer and makes between six and eight miles. This is followed by an hour's work in his training quarters and eight rounds of boxing with his sparring partners. Welsh boxed two rounds with Benny Chavez and three rounds each with Jack Braddon and Battling Reddy, displaying all his cleverness before a crowd of 300 enthusiastic fight fans.

White will not start his boxing until Wednesday, as he does not believe more than 10 days hard training will be necessary to put him in shape. Thus far he has confined his training mostly to road work to develop his wind. Charley claims to be in fine condition now.

Welsh and White met again last night at the Hayes-Jackson bout at Hammon. The men were introduced to the crowd and received a great hand.

Welsh continues a slight favorite in the local betting. But the wager that attracts most attention is the three to one that White won't score a knockout. There seems to be plenty of money on both sides of this proposition.

The sale of seats still continues at a great rate and club officials anticipate a packed house for the bout.

ready to take part in regular contests again. Ruben Oldring held down right field yesterday and Frank Baker probably will be in the lineup before another week has passed. Fritz Maisel is working out daily and may get a start at second base soon.

World's Great Sprinter Has Stroke of Paralysis

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 22.—Howard Drew, negro sprinter and holder of the world's record for the 100 yard dash, has probably run his last race. Drew was laid up here today with paralysis, brought on when he strained himself in the century dash of a meet at San Diego Saturday.

Drew was a member of the American team which won the Olympic games at Stockholm in 1912. He was formerly a student at a Springfield, Mass., high school, but of late has been attending the University of Southern California.

Drew holds the records of 9.3-5 for 100 yards and has equaled the record of 21.1-5 for the 220 yards.

The paralysis is said to be the indirect result of an injury sustained by Drew last March while competing in an indoor race in New York.

To Have Racing Circuit.
San Francisco, Aug. 22.—The establishment of a racing circuit on the Pacific coast with a season long enough to justify the shipment of the nation's best horses here, is planned by James W. Coffroth, former fight promoter. Meets at Tijuana, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Reno are contemplated, he stated today.

Railroads Stocks Strong Feature of Market

New York, Aug. 22.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today says:

Operators in stocks who had looked forward to a substantial reaction from the high prices recorded in today's early dealings found little in the course of the general market, following the initial forward movement to encourage the idea that anything more than quick turns for short account would be profitable at this particular period. Buying power represented was enormous. A large amount of stock came out on the advance, but it was so well absorbed that the impression on prices was small in proportion to the number of shares.

Speculative attention, although fairly well riveted upon United States steel common, which made a new high record, was directed also toward many parts of the list, including other steel shares, equipment issues, the coppers and Reading, while the general railroad group, especially in the late trading found more followers than in Monday's operations.

Outside participation was heavy— heavier than had been reported in many months. The profit taking sales in the day were heavy in volume and at times in the afternoon moderate reactions from the early high points were recorded.

Railroad stocks were in far better demand as the session approached its close, with strength in Erie, New York Central, Union Pacific, St. Paul and Reading. While recoveries from realizing reactions were under way in various parts of the list, Wall street's information from Washington continued to favor the idea that an adjustment of the railroad labor controversy would be effected.

IS THIS A CASE OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY?

Is Prisoner James Gaffene As He Claims, Or Is He Murderer Tortorici?

San Francisco, Aug. 22.—A dark skinned man paced slowly before the witness stand in the superior court room today that witnesses might have the chance of studying his every pose. He started each walk confidently and ended it with shoulders drooping and walk unsteady.

This man declares he is James Gaffene, an innocent man. But five accusing hands pointed him out as Pietro Tortorici, the man who murdered Biagio Villardo and then hacked the body into pieces, hiding it in a sack. Only once did he hope come to the accused man. It was when Policeman James Deuser took the stand.

"That man looks just like Tortorici did 11 years ago," said the officer. "Had I met him 11 years ago there would be no doubt in my mind."

The case is one of the most remarkable in local criminal history.

The one defense is that there has been a case of mistaken identity and that somewhere there is a double, the real Tortorici. George Schmacke, a laundry worker; Felipe Ferita and Mrs. Lena Orbert, all former friends of Tortorici, declared from the stand that the man before them was the slayer.
